

Community Forum

Wildlife of Coyote Valley > Sunday, May 6, 2007

- > Sunday, May 6th, 2007 • 1 – 4 pm
- > Almaden Library & Community Center
6445 Camden Avenue, San Jose

Stay afterwards for our wildlife fair!

Plan to attend a community forum to learn more about Coyote Valley, the 6,800-acre swath of open space and farmland between San Jose and Morgan Hill, being planned for development.

Coyote Valley and nearby hillsides are also home to rare wildlife including tule elk, mountain lions, badgers and sensitive butterfly species. The City of San Jose is releasing a draft Environmental Impact Report on its plan to develop the valley. This is an important opportunity to protect Coyote Valley's wildlife habitat and biological diversity.

- > This event is free and open to the public.

Speakers

San Jose City Councilmember
Nancy Pyle

Dr. Grey Hayes, Elkhorn
Slough Foundation

Dr. Stuart Weiss,
Conservation Biologist

Tanya Diamond, San Jose
State University

Event Co-Sponsors

Committee for Green Foothills

Greenbelt Alliance

Santa Clara Valley
Audubon Society

Sierra Club Loma Prieta Chapter

Silicon Valley Land Conservancy

For more information, visit www.greenfoothills.org/calendar